ONLY CONGRESSWOMAN TALKS TO CHICAGO AUDIENCE

Garbed in dainty pink frock, Jeannette Rankin, congresswoman from Montana, made her appearance before a Chicago audience in Orchestra hall yesterday afternoon.

"The new spirit in the world today is the unity of the people," she said. "Democracy can no longer be localized. The voice of the people must be represented in government, in industry and in society.

"Every law introduced into congress should be framed for the welfare of children.

"The people should choose their captains of industry from among their ranks.

Miss Rankin asserts that woman suffrage is coming all over the world and that nothing can stop it.
